

The HCSO has carried out a revision of the annual population calculation and labour force survey data based on the 2022 census data

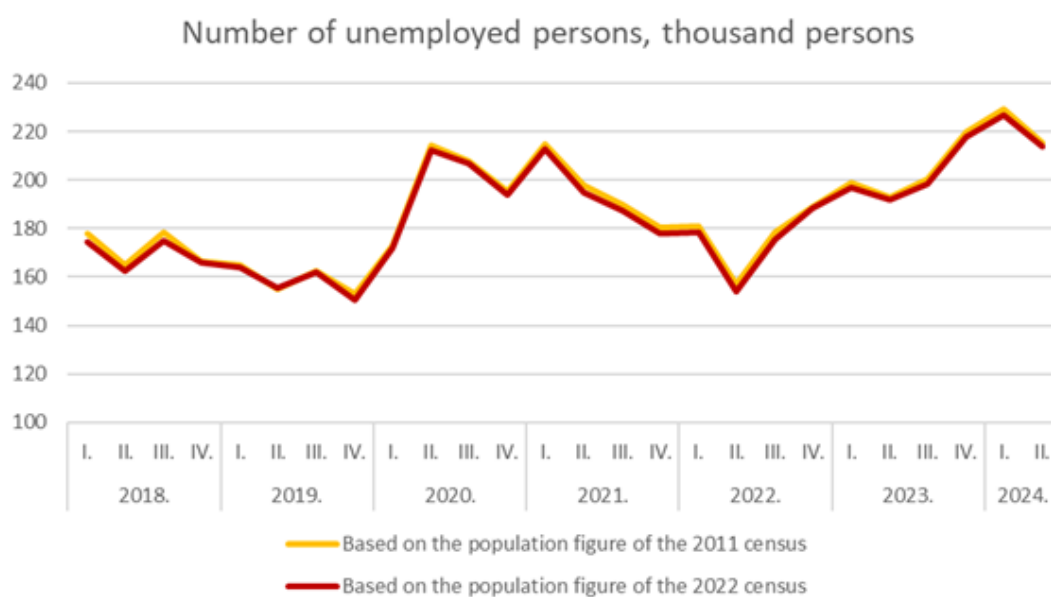

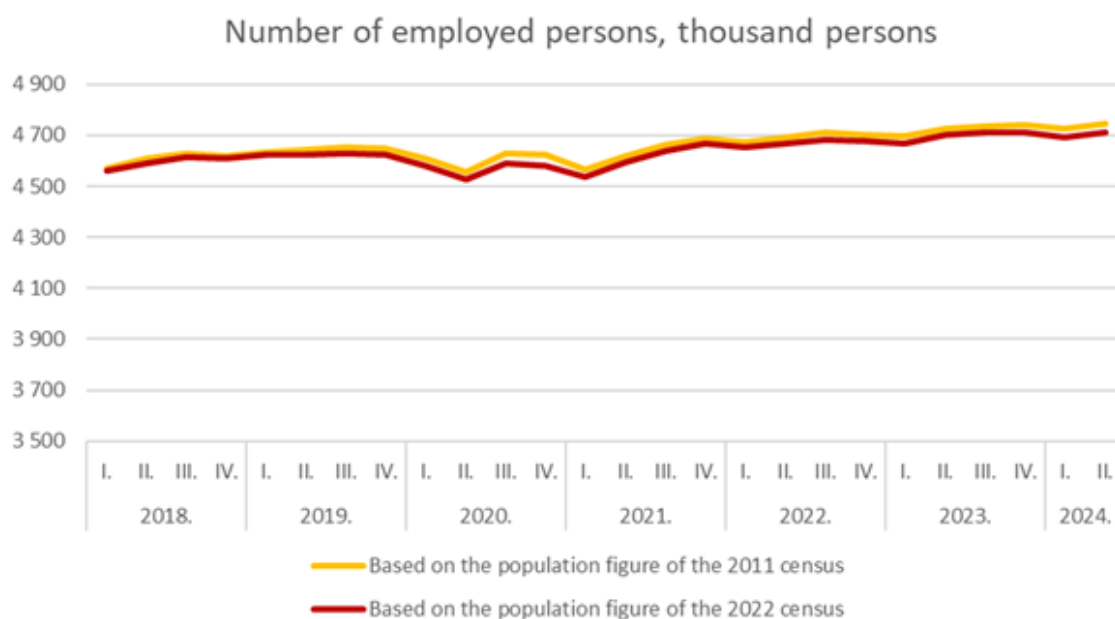

The Hungarian Central Statistical Office (HCSO) calculates the current population data based on the data of the last census using the annual vital events. Based on the 2022 census, a backward revision of the population data for the period 2012 to 2022 has been completed. The revision of the data smooths out the time series break caused by the change to the nearly 80 thousand lower base of the 2022 census. The revised data are available in the STADAT table system of the HCSO from 25 October 2024 and the revised population figures for the period 2012-2022 are also available on the Eurostat website.

In line with national and international practice, HCSO will carry out a revision of the labour force survey data based on the results of the decennial census. From 25 October 2024 onwards, the labour force survey estimates will be produced using the annual population calculation based on the 2022 census. The revised data based on the results of the 2022 census will be updated in the STADAT table system at the same time as today's first release.

The labour force survey data has been revised to January 2018, data for the period prior to that date has not been affected by this change. The revised data will be published on Eurostat's website in December at the same time as the Q3 data.

Revision has not led to significant changes in the main indicators of the labour force survey, it resulted in a 0.7% decrease in the number of employed and a 0.6% decrease in the number of unemployed.
